

Shield Insurance: Strategic Analysis & Growth Opportunities

A data-driven review of revenue performance, concentration risks, and pathways to profitable, diversified growth.

Revenue Is Strong, but Concentration Creates Risk

Revenue Strength

989.25M in total revenue from 26.84K customers reflects strong per-customer value and a high-performing core portfolio.

Concentration Risk

March alone accounts for ~27% of revenue. Seasonal and geographic dependencies create meaningful business risk.

Strategic Priority

Protect the revenue core while systematically building diversification across time, geography, and channel.

March Drives a Disproportionate Share of Revenue

The March Spike

Revenue surges to a six-month high of 264M in March – a dramatic 84.6% jump from February.

The reversal is equally sharp: April falls 41.7% immediately after, suggesting a concentrated burst of activity rather than sustained momentum.

Investigate whether fiscal year-end renewals or policy cycles are driving the spike – and build strategies to smooth this volatility.

Delhi NCR Anchors the Business — but Diversification Matters

Geographic Revenue Breakdown

Revenue and Customers by city
City	Customers	Revenue
Delhi_NCR	11.007K	401.57M
Mumbai	6.432K	239.51M
Hyderabad	4.340K	160.52M
Chennai	2.966K	106.31M
Indore	2.096K	81.35M
Total	26.841K	989.25M

Concentration at a Glance

- Delhi NCR contributes 401.57M, or 40.6% of revenue
- Delhi + Mumbai together generate 64.8% of revenue
- Indore has the highest revenue per customer
- Growth should balance scale with customer value

Bottom 3 Policies

The Value Concentration Gap

The top 3 policies deliver 62.72% of revenue from just 22.18% of customers — a stark imbalance that defines the portfolio's risk profile.

Meanwhile, the bottom 3 policies serve 44.69% of customers yet contribute only 11.61% of revenue.

- Audit pricing and renewal mechanics on top performers
- Evaluate cross-sell potential for high-customer, low-revenue policies
- Assess settlement ratios to protect margin

Agents Remain the Core Sales Engine — Digital Is the Growth Opportunity

% Revenue Split

Channel Strategy

Agent Network — 55.67%

The backbone of revenue. Agent relationships and trust remain central to policy acquisition and renewal – protect this engine at all costs.

Digital Channels — 28.87%

Nearly 29% and growing. Digital is the highest-leverage expansion opportunity, especially for younger customer segments.

Strategic Balance

Scale digital without cannibalizing agents. Invest in agent enablement tools alongside digital infrastructure.

31–50 Is the Core — 65+ Is High Value but Margin Pressured

31–50 Age Group

62.2% of customers and 53.8% of revenue — the undisputed core segment. This group delivers the largest absolute profit and anchors the entire business.

65+ Segment

Generates a striking 21.6% of revenue from only 8.9% of customers — exceptional revenue per customer. However, margin sits at 27.99%, the lowest across all segments.

Under-30 Opportunity

Younger customers represent a lower share today but offer long-term lifetime value. Digital-first acquisition strategies can unlock this segment efficiently at lower cost.

Shift From Revenue Growth to Profitable, Diversified Growth

Protect

Defend high-performing top-3 policies and the core 31–50 customer base. Prioritize renewal rates, claim experience, and agent relationships.

Optimize

Audit low-revenue policies and high-settlement segments. Reprice, restructure, or retire products that dilute margin without strategic purpose.

Diversify

Reduce dependency on Delhi/Mumbai and offline agents. Activate high-value regional markets like Indore and invest in digital channel growth.

Scale

Selectively grow digital channels and target high-value segments. Smooth seasonal revenue peaks by spreading renewals across the calendar.
